Welcome

Invitation to Worship Psalm 121

*I lift up my eyes to the hills—from where will my help come?
My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth.
He will not let your foot be moved;
he who keeps you will not slumber.
He who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.
The Lord is your keeper;
the Lord is your shade at your right hand.
The sun shall not strike you by day nor the moon by night.
The Lord will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life.
The Lord will keep your going out and your coming in from this time on and forevermore.*

Prayer for Peace

God wants shalom. Shalom exists when all creation experiences justice, wholeness, and peace. God’s shalom is revealed in Christ’s peace. When we just take time to know someone else, we help create peace, justice draws near, and the world begins to change. You see, God’s kingdom isn’t just you, or just me—it is us, everyone. I have peace when you have peace. God’s love connects us. Christ’s presence invites shalom. May we commit to nurture justice and peace every day.

God of Peace,
You bring light to our darkness
and hope to our determined core.
Embolden us as we yearn for peace.
Direct us as we watch for peace.
Reassure us as we work for peace.
You are the light!
You are our peace!
Amen.

*Sending Forth Romans 4:13,16

For the promise that he would inherit the world did not come to Abraham or to his descendants through the law but through the righteousness of faith. For this reason the promise depends on faith, in order that it may rest on grace, so that it may be guaranteed to all his descendants, not only to the adherents of the law but also to those who share the faith of Abraham...

CARAVAN 2026

We Are One in the Spirit!

Students who have completed grades 9–12 are invited on this 12-day quest to immerse ourselves in our Enduring Principles as we journey. We will spend the first half of our trip visiting Nauvoo, Kirtland, and the Sacred Grove in Palmyra learning about our Church history and where we came from. The second half of this exciting expedition will include exploring who we are as a faith community today and what we as disciples can do to live the Enduring Principles as we move into the future. We will visit the National Mall and the Smithsonian museums in Washington DC, Monticello in Virginia, the Beck Cultural Exchange Center in Knoxville TN, the Nashville Zoo, and the Lorraine Motel Civil Rights Museum in Memphis. We end with a Temple tour the last day.

Registration opens soon!

HE FOUND THAT EATING FRUITS OF THE SPIRIT DIRECTLY WAS LESS FILLING

from the desk of Rob Heverling

RELENTLESS

We moved into our new house.

In less than a week three different security company representatives loudly knocked on our door and rang our doorbell. Each one selling the value of their security system.

The first two salespeople had well researched, well-rehearsed pitches.

The third salesman was much younger than the other two. He didn't make a hard pitch at all.

He told me about himself, where he lived, and how he came to be employed by this company.

He asked what I did for a living and what I was passionate about.

I briefly told him about my work history and how I came to my current job as Midlands Mission Center President and why this was meaningful to me.

I told him how for the first time in several years we lived close to our kids and grandkids, and this was one of our passions! He listened.

Then he told me about how much he enjoyed hanging out with the young kids of his older sister and brother. He really liked being the cool uncle.

Eventually he made his lowkey security system pitch.

I liked this young man. As we talked, he genuinely seemed interested in my life.

And I was interested in his life. He felt authentic. I told him door-to-door sales was really challenging, but if he was good at sales, there was a real opportunity to be financially successful.

I declined his security system offer.

We declined every offer.

The third salesman asked after a few months, when we were settled in, could he come back for a visit?

"Of course!" I said, "It was good to get to know you a little."

Now, unless something changes dramatically, we don't plan on investing in a complete security system. But again, I really liked the young man. I suppose there's a chance he might change our minds, but really, I simply would like to convert his interest in selling me a security system into a budding friendship.

It's too soon to tell, but perhaps he knows his investment in me is part of a relentlessness that is often a necessity for closing a deal.

I have learned being relentless is critical in demonstrating genuine care for others and (eventually) inviting people into being part of the Community of Christ.

This is no Art of the Deal.

This is a relentless pursuit of building trust, companionship, and love for other people who could be changed by being in relationship with us and discovering how meaningful our unique community and mission can be in their lives.

It's not really about saving souls; it's about inviting people to allow us to be part of their unique faith journey or helping them start their journey. And guiding them to experience the power of a Spirit-led community.

Be RELENTLESS! Be unyieldingly persistent in building authentic relationships with new people that can end up with an invitation that just might be too meaningful to decline.

Shalom, shalom, Rob
